Exclusive Electronic Payment System. Within thirty (30) days of implementing the Services and for the duration of this Agreement, You will only use these Services as Your exclusive means of accepting and processing credit card, debit card, and other electronic payments. Accordingly, You will cease all use of any alternative method or systems for accepting these types of payments within this thirty (30) day period, except You may continue to use any existing alternative method or system which You have an existing contractual obligation to use and which cannot be cancelled without penalty, provided You do not renew those contractual obligations. You acknowledge that fees for the Services may have been discounted based on Your exclusive use of the Services for electronic payments and if You fail to use these Services as Your exclusive means of accepting and processing credit card, debit card, or other electronic payments in the time period under this section, SwervePay will invoice You for any Services provided during the discounted time frames at the higher rates indicated in this Exhibit A and You shall pay such invoice with thirty (30) days or as otherwise instructed on the invoice. Further, SwervePay may terminate this Agreement for such breach in accordance with the Term and Termination section of the General Terms of Service.

Anticipated Usage. In the event Your usage patterns of the Services deviates significantly or causes a substantial increase in costs compared to SwervePay's initial assessment of Your anticipated usage of the Services (ex: electronic payment mixture of credit card, debit card, card brands accepted, etc.), SwervePay may adjust the rates indicated in this Exhibit A.
